Living with Chromosome 18 q – Syndrome

Last week, during mid-winter break, I went to Vietnam with my family. You haven't seen or experienced bad traffic, until you've been to Asia! It's not just cars and trucks you need to look out for, the streets are littered with motorbikes, bicycles, rickshaws, motorized rickshaws, and even shopping carts! Every time we walked somewhere, and made it in one piece, Mom would turn to us and say, "We survived!"
